WHAT'S NU?

How is Chevra helping the community? We have some very exciting initiatives to tell you about!

'SNOW' ONE LEFT BEHIND

CLEANING OUT YOUR CLOSET... FOR A GOOD CAUSE!

Every Shabbos until the end of November, we will be collecting lightly used/new winter coats & jackets to donate to Siloam Mission. And hey, why not stay for services and herring! Can't make it on Saturday? Don't worry, our final drop off day will be Sunday, November 27th from 11 am to 2 pm.

IT'S 'BIN' AWHILE

KEEP THE GIVING GOING

Inspired by the JCFS and their Rosh Hashanah pasta sauce drive, we have decided to put up our own bin to collect non-perishable food items for Winnipeg Harvest.

DID JEW KNOW?

Tikkun Olam is a profound Jewish concept, the place where mysticism meets activism. Tikkun means to repair or improve. Olam means the entire world. Any activity that improves the world, bringing it closer to the harmonious state for which it was created is considered Tikkun Olam.

SIMONE COHEN-SCOTT

MEMBER OF MULTIPLE HATS WEARS 'MINYANNAIRE' WELL

I have been asked to begin what might become a regular feature of 'Chevrah Chadashot'. This honour was bestowed upon me no doubt because I am the newest minyannaire, having begun attending about three years ago. Yes, that's right, during the long months of Covid, Chevra Mishnayas was often the only live Shabbat show in town. We literally turned Covid into Kavod.

I'm very grateful I've found a 'tradithodox' service where I, a woman, can sing praises and chant scripture with as much kavannah as any man. However, I'm surprised more wives don't join in now that they can. This may change. Couples such as Skye Kneller/Cam Poitras, and Ruth and Allan Stargardter, build their week around Shabbat, not just tacking it on. Hopefully their choice will influence more couples, because haimishe shules in which to raise families are getting fewer and farther between.

As time proceeds, I hope I'll meet more and more of the rest of the Shule congregation. Please come up and say "hello" if you figure out which one I am.

May You Have a Happy and healthy 5783!
Simone Cohen Scott
